

Richmond College Swamped by Georgetown---Play in Philadelphia Monday

Ames, Pitcher

Snodgrass, Cen. Field

Crandall, Pitcher

Marquard, Pitcher

Fletcher, Shortstop

McGraw, Manager

Connie Mack

Morgan, Pitcher

Coombs, Pitcher

Murphy, Fielder

Bender, Pitcher

Livingstone, Catcher

COBB BELIEVES MATTY WILL TOSS GAME ON MONDAY

Giants' Mainstay, After Much Needed Rest, Is Back Again.

TRANSFER OF GAME JUST IDLE TALK

No Chance of Contest Being Taken to New York—Rest Certainly Helps Giants, but Mackmen Have Not Been Idle During Layoff Last Few Days.

BY "TY" COBB.

(Copyright, 1911, by the Press Co.)
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Philadelphia, Pa., October 21.—Jupiter Pluvius is said to be a jealous old fellow. When Frank Baker established home run records for the world's series and other features combined to make the games between the Athletics and New York Giants eventful in baseball history, old J. P. forced his way into the limelight. Four solid days of rain, necessitating a postponement of a quartet of scheduled games in Philadelphia, has brought the series up to Monday, and, of course, that means another and the fifth day of idleness.

If Jupiter Pluvius can get any satisfaction out of the fact that he has established a world's series record for rainy days, let him have it. The players of both teams, the "fans" and every one interested in the struggle for the baseball supremacy of 1911, are not pleased with him, however.

Little New Dope.
There is little that can be added to the "rainy-day talks" I have written each day since Tuesday. I can only repeat that the rest from Tuesday to the following Monday will surely have restored the Athletics' strength, and he will undoubtedly pitch the game in Philadelphia Monday if it is played. That is something which, if it helps the Giants, McGraw will have to thank Jupiter Pluvius for.

After last Tuesday's defeat, "Matty" was unfit for duty for at least three days and during that time the Athletics would probably have won the series. When the two teams take the field Monday, let us say if the weather permits, they will be thoroughly rested. There will be no occasion for any

(Continued on Second Page.)

V. P. I. MAKES RECORD SCORE

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Blackburg, Va., October 21.—V. P. I. defeated Roanoke College here this evening 33 to 0, the largest score ever run up on Miles Field. Nearly every substitute was given a trial, and the scrubs played two quarters.

The Techs showed great improvement in their work, and will give Washington and Lee a hard game next Saturday in Roanoke. The game scheduled here to-day with Western Maryland was canceled by the latter.

Football Yesterday.
At Richmond: Georgetown, 65; Richmond College, 0.
At Lexington: V. M. I., 25; Randolph-Macon, 0.
At Lexington: Washington and Lee, 18; Wake Forest, 5.
At Blacksburg: V. P. I., 93; Roanoke College, 0.
At Charlotte: Carolina, 5; Davidson, 0.
At Charlottesville: Virginia, 6; St. John's, 0.
At West Point: Army, 6; Yale, 0.
At Ann Arbor: Michigan, 9; Princeton, 0.
At Cambridge: Harvard, 11; Amherst, 0.
At Philadelphia: Brown, 6; Pennsylvania, 0.
At Hanover: Dartmouth, 23; Williams, 5.
At Ithaca: Cornell, 6; W. & J., 0.

ON MUDDY FIELD CADETS LICK ELI

West Point, N. Y., October 21.—In a greasy struggle, in which both sides had sometimes to win for the ball, the West Point cadets by better charging and ability to hold on to the pigskin won from the uncertain players from Yale to-day for the second consecutive year by a score of 6 to 0.

The Army's touchdown came in the first three minutes of play, when Dean captured the ball on a Yale fumble on the Blue's thirty-yard line, circled Yale's right end for a twenty-seven-yard run to the three-yard line, and in two rushes was pushed over for the first score against the Blue this season. A minute later he kicked goal and the score stood 6 to 0, where it remained, although both elevens had a fierce struggle to the finish.

The Army outplayed Yale at every point, and continually threw the backs for losses. With hands well roined the cadet backfield fumbled only 2 of Yale's 28 punts, while the Army forwards got the jump on the Yale line at every down. Yale stood once on the Army's thirty-yard line, but was never nearer the cadet goal.

On the other hand, Gillespie, the brilliant Army end, grabbed a muffed ball by Phil bin in the center of the field and slipped along to the one-yard line before a Yale player overhauled him. A score seemed inevitable, but on the first rush, in which Yale held, the cadets were sent back fifteen yards for holding. There an effort was made for a placement goal, but Yale easily blocked the kick.

In the last period the Army got within eighteen yards of the Yale goal, where another placement kick was blocked.

It was a kicking game throughout. Under such severe conditions, the gridiron was a swamp and it rained throughout the game. The players were frequently called to allow the players to sponge their faces. Six thousand people stood in the rain to watch the contest.

The game was one of the surprises of the football season, for Yale had expected to run up a score of double figures.

MONDAY'S GAME NOW IN DOUBT

Still Raining in Philadelphia, and Shibe Park a Veritable Quagmire.

Philadelphia, Pa., October 21.—It may seem far fetched, but baseball fans in this city are to-night a bit anxious over the prospects of the fourth game of the world's baseball series between the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York Giants.

After the game was postponed to-day for the fourth game, Connie Mack, manager of the champions of 1910, said the weather must clear soon or there would be doubts about a game day for the fourth time, Connie Mack, some ground for his fear became apparent to-night. Shibe Park has been a virtual quagmire since last Wednesday, and to-day it received another copious fall of rain. It is still raining to-night, and it will take at least twenty-four hours to dry the playing field sufficiently for a game after the weather clears. There is hope, however, that the weather will settle to-morrow.

The long spell of rain has enabled Connie Mack to look forward to next season and to-day he met Horace Fogel, president of the Philadelphia National League Club, and arranged a spring series of games. The Athletics and Phillies will return from their Southern training in time to open the series here on March 30, and they will play together every day until the day after the opening of the championship season in the major leagues.

NEITHER TEAM ABLE TO SCORE

William and Mary Plays Fredericksburg College to Standstill.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Williamsburg, Va., October 21.—Neither William and Mary nor Fredericksburg College could score in a fast game of football here to-day. William and Mary was poor on offense, but played a strong defensive game.

The heavy backfield of the visitors made inroads through the line, but at crucial moments the home team held for downs, and Spencer pinned out of danger. In the last quarter Goodwin, of William and Mary, fumbled, and Fredericksburg recovered the ball on the seven-yard line. In two downs they carried the ball to William and Mary's 15-foot line, but the Orange and Black held, and Spencer booted the ball over the opposing quarter's head. Games, Lee and Brinkley played spectacular ball for William and Mary, while for Fredericksburg, Mills, Carter, Bowman and Williams played a great game. The line-up: William and Mary: (Capt.) Goodwin, center; Woodbridge, right guard; (Capt.) Brinkley, left guard; (Capt.) Brooks, C. Brinkley, right tackle; (Capt.) Chandler, left tackle; (Capt.) Brooks, E. Parker, right end; (Capt.) Leonard, left end; (Capt.) Smith, right halfback; (Capt.) Brinkley, left halfback; (Capt.) Bowman, right halfback; (Capt.) Carter, left halfback; (Capt.) Williams, quarterback.

Referee, Mr. Taylor, of William and Mary. Umpire, Mr. John, of Hampton-Sidney. Headlinesman, Mr. Morrow, of William and Mary. Field judge, Mr. Blanton, of William and Mary. Time of quarters, 15 minutes.

RANDOLPH-MACON LOSSES TO V. M. I.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Lexington, Va., October 21.—Cadets of the Virginia Military Institute outplayed Randolph-Macon this afternoon and won by the score of 25 to 0 on former's parade grounds. The Cadets goal line never was in danger throughout the game. The Cadets crossed the Collegians' goal line twice in the first quarter, once in the second and again in the fourth. Youell, before the end of the game, kicked a pretty field goal from the forty-yard line. The Collegians resorted to a kicking game when they found the Cadet line impregnable, although they were the heavier. With again started with Karst, Kingman and Leach for Cadets, while Hopkins, Ives and Blount featured for the Collegians.

Cadets' Position: College (Capt.) Vaughan (Left) Purdie, center; De Shaze (Hastie) Dalton, right guard; Jordan (Capt.) Clarke, right tackle; J. Woodhouse, Youell, right end; Wray (Hathaway) Richards, left half back; Ives Leach, right half back; Blount (Hathaway) Kingman, fullback; Hopkins Touchdowns—Leach, Kingman, Richards. Goals—Witt (2). Field goals—Youell. Umpire, Mr. Golly. Referee, Captain Kinsolving. Twelve and ten-minute quarters.

ATHLETICS LOOK LIKE SURE THING IN FINAL CLASH

Hard to Figure How Giants Have a Chance to Grab Series.

M'Graw Failed to Show Speed

In Every Department Mackmen Have Excelled—Arguments Pro and Con Fail to Show Wherein New Yorkers Have More Than Forlorn Hope.

BY GUS MALBERT.
When experts disagree it's time that we lesser lights had our inning.

Comes the famous Tyrus Raymond Cobb with the statement that the enforced idle period of five days means that the series of world championship baseball games in which Mr. Connie Mack and Mr. John McGraw are intensely interested, is about to begin over again.

Spouts the near-poet laureate of the baseball writing fraternity, Damon D. Ryan, that the Giants have the second wind and are sure to come in under the wire winners. That fellow of infinite jest and rhyme, Grantland Rice, from the fair Southland, opines that the rain has little to do with it, and that the Giants would have won anyway.

Chief Meyers, Christy Mathewson, Rube Marquard, Hughie Jennings, dubbed by some the traitor, and other members of the baseball-journalist or journeymen-brotherhood, each has a word of wisdom to add to the sum total, no two agreeing as to just why the rain will help the Giants, just as they failed to agree as to the exact kind of a ball which Matty served up to J. Franklin Baker on that memorable day when victory was wrested from the maw of defeat by the gentleman who has made Trappe, Md., stand out from among the other cities of this United States.

Unquestionably Giant supporters are taking every crumb of the optimistic cake which is being dealt out from the pens of those who must write something. While some of the sweetening may have oozed out of the pastry, still, there is always solace

(Continued on Third Page.)

FEW CANDIDATES FOR TRACK TEAM

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Charlottesville, Va., October 21.—"Pop" Lannigan, the popular trainer at the University of Virginia, is worried. He was worried at the opening of college, and his hopes are now not much higher, if they have not fallen.

"Pop" troubles lie in the fact that he has almost a whole track team to manufacture to fill the losses from last year's squad, and he has not found much good material to work with. For the past month he has been spending two hours on the running track on Lambeth Field working out his men putting them through the hardest of tests to find their strong points or to prove the reputation they bring from prep. schools, and he fears he has a herculean task on his hands to make them of the quality he wants. This week he lost Fitzhugh White, a sprinter of good form from Woodberry, upon whom he was counting, when the latter stopped college to accept a position in Savannah. Still, in spite of the lack of material, work goes on. To find the real worth of all his new men, a handicap meet has been arranged for next Monday afternoon. Time will be given a chance to prove their worth.

Merkle, 1st Base

Mathewson, Pitcher

Devlin, Infielder

Meyers, Catcher

Herzog, 3d Base

Capt. Doyle, 2d Base

Drucker, Pitcher

Collins, 3d Base

Lapp, Catcher

Davis, 1st Base

Baker, 3d Base

Plank, Pitcher

Strunk, Outfielder

Lord, Fielder

Murray, Right Field

Wilson, Catcher

Willis, Pitcher

Devore, Left Field

Becker, Outfielder

Molanes, Utility

Thomas, Catcher

Kraus, Pitcher

Harrell, Fielder

Barry, Shortstop

Oldring, Fielder